1. The VGCCC portal

1.1 What is the VGCCC portal

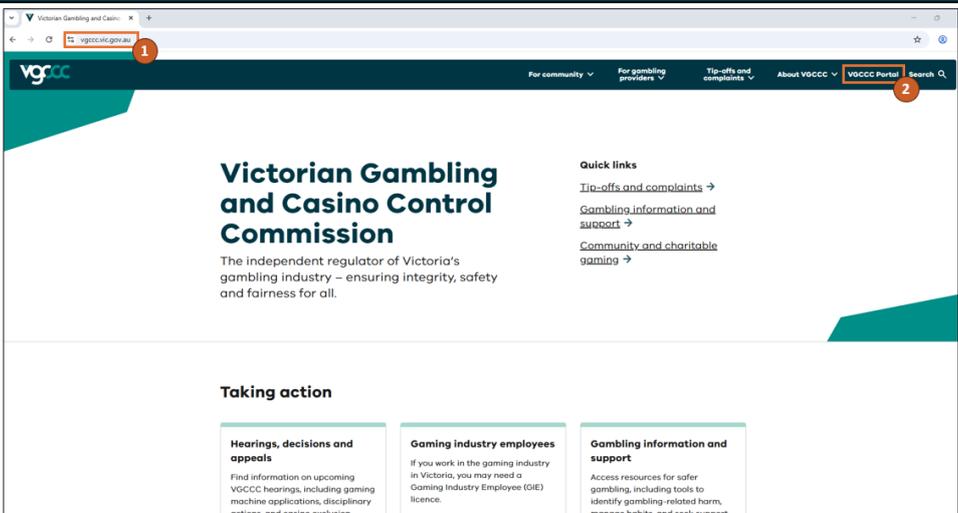

The VGCCC portal is the central website where you can request and manage various VGCCC licences and processes related to your licence. From now, this is the primary way to lodge and manage applications.

For added security, the VGCCC portal now utilises the Service Victoria multi-factor authentication service. When logging in, you will be automatically sent to Service Victoria’s platform to enter your username and password. Upon successfully logging in, you will be redirected to the VGCCC portal. Note: To see your licences, your login email address must match both Service Victoria and VGCCC portal.

3. Scroll down the webpage and click the VGCCC portal Login button

The VGCCC has changed the way you log in.

Users will now need to login using their Service Victoria account to sign into the VGCCC portal. This update makes logging in safer and consistent with other Victoria Government services.

What does this mean for you?

When you click on 'VGCCC Portal Login', a Services Vic authentication page will appear.

This is a new step added to meet government standards.

This login is a two-step verification process, please check your spam or junk folder for a verification code.

After you log in through the Services Vic authentication page, your VGCCC portal will open as usual.

To login and access your account successfully, the email address used for your Service Victoria account must match the one registered with VGCCC.

If you're a Venue Operator, you can keep using the same email you currently use for the Venue Operator License (VOL) portal to login into the new VGCCC Portal. There are no changes to the VOL Portal at this stage.

What should you do?
